

The White Hart Inn

Nestling in the little hamlet of Margaretting Tye, the White Hart Inn is a good example of what it takes to be a 'Great British Pub'. It's the perfect rural destination to eat, drink and sleep.

Using local ingredients and seasonal produce, the team in the kitchen, led by Executive Chef Karen Steele, serves an impressively wide menu.

Dishes vary from a tasty prawn sandwich on fresh, locally produced granary bread with a deliciously dressed salad garnish, through to main menu items such as deep smoked salmon mousse with juniper smoked salmon, from Maldon smokery, Lampton & Jackson. Or enjoy char grilled lemon thyme chicken with balsamic roasted tomatoes, baby leeks and Jersey Royal potatoes, and of course the ever popular Sunday Lunch, served throughout the day.

The irresistible puddings menu includes passion fruit curd brûlée and an indulgent salted caramel tart with peanut butter ice cream.

Behind the bar, the free house serves least 5 cask ales, such as Barry Black from brewers The Mighty Oak Brewing Company and Adnams Best Bitter. Also on draft is Aspalls cider and Pimms, a great summertime favourite!

The pub boasts a well thought out and reasonably priced wine list, plus excellent coffee from a local supplier.

Located above the pub are two exceptionally appointed double bedrooms with en-suites. General Manger Mark Nellist says: 'Our rooms are extremely popular with guests coming to local weddings and parties or to play golf. We are also running a really great value Midweek Special Offer – an overnight stay, Tuesday to Thursday, with breakfast & evening meal for £99.95 for two people.'

There is ample seating both outside on the pretty green and inside with stripped rustic tables and comfy seating. A light and airy conservatory is perfect for private meals and parties.

The White Hart Inn is a great country pub to head to for lunch or dinner. And if you just want to call in for a quick pint? That's fine too...

There is ample parking and good disabled access.
